FOREWORD

Through these portals we came to begin our high school careers. Through these same portals we pass as we bid farewell to Jesuit and our four years of high school.

Indeed this past year, our last, has been a year long to remember. In every field Jesuit has excelled. The achievements in sports this year were truly the greatest in the short history of our school. In the field of speech and dramatics new honors were added to those previously received. The genuine spirit of both students and faculty has indeed made this year great.

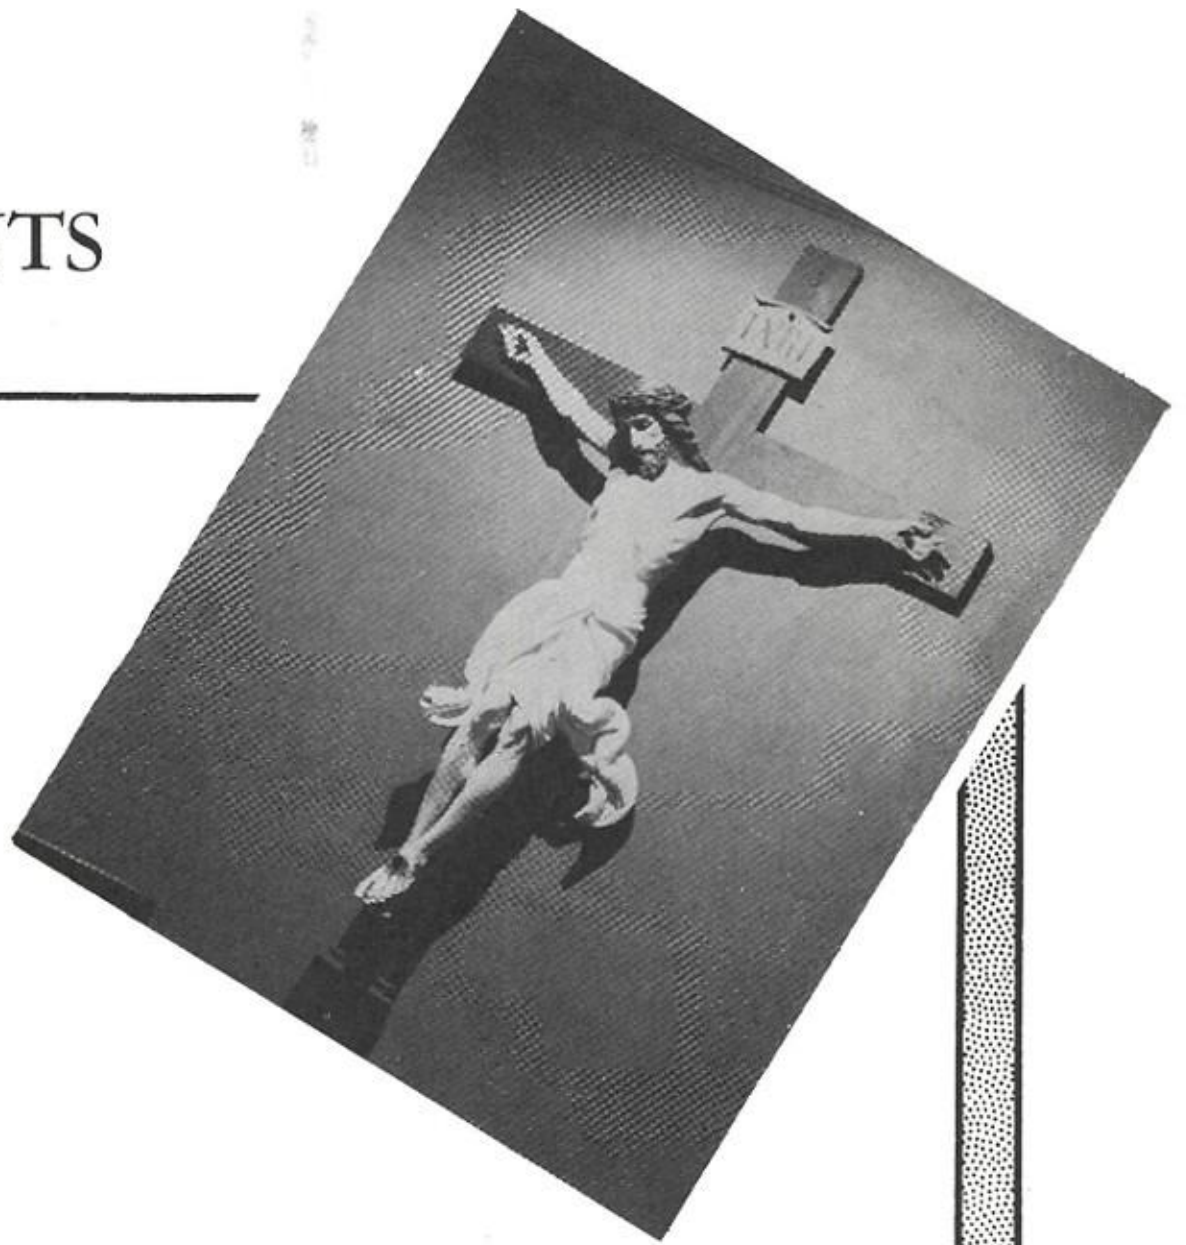

In a few short days we pass through these portals for the last time as students of this beloved institution. Left behind are all the good times and glad experiences of the past four years, but their fond memory goes with us. For the underclassmen, this year will be one not only to remember, but one to emulate.

In an effort to record some of these achievements, the Roundup Staff presents a brand new annual, the first of its kind at Jesuit. We sincerely hope that in future years this book will bring back cherished memories to its readers.

Therefore, The Roundup Staff presents to you for your enjoyment: THE LAST ROUNDUP OF 1955.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

REVEREND MICHAEL P. KAMMER, S. J.
Principal

To the Class of '55:

A good deal depended on you. You and the faculty engaged in an experiment to see just how much the upperclassmen could assume of responsibility and control without hurting Christ's good order or wrecking the purpose of one of Christ's schools.

You have proved that boys, without ceasing to be boys, can make good partners in Christ. In your time, because of you, Jesuit High School has changed . . . not spectacularly, but fundamentally. You have created a greater difference than any previous class. Those of us who will carry on after you leave want to say thank you.

What will happen to you? Will you take away as much of God's good things as you have left behind for us? You can . . . if you will live by the same principle that made you a senior class to remember. That principle was to hold yourselves like men who are conscious that they carry the face of Christ before the world. Behaving like seniors who wore the face of Christ, you took on dignity, you took on meaning, you mattered to your school and your town. You can continue to have dignity, you can continue to have meaning, you can continue to matter wherever you go and whatever you do, if you will always proudly wear the face of Christ and remember that you do.

THE SENIOR CLASS

In keeping with the tradition established by senior classes of the past, so also was it this year . . . the seniors were the leaders of Jesuit High School. The many accomplishments of this year's senior class are both varied and lofty.

In the beginning of the year the seniors found themselves in great need of money to sponsor the many projects which they were to undertake. However, this turned out to be no real problem, as the class of '55 initiated and spearheaded a Magazine Subscription Drive throughout the entire school. Within a two-week period, sparked by the hard work and leadership of the seniors, a net profit of nine hundred dollars was realized. As a result of this successful drive, we received a letter of high commendation from the regional director at San Antonio. The two main purposes of this money were: first, to sponsor the Junior-Senior Prom; and secondly, to present a gift to the school in memory of the class of '55.

Annually, the seniors sponsor one big formal dance for the entire school . . . the Winter Carnival. For weeks following this dance, students talked about it, acclaiming it the best ever held. Louann's . . . Dallas' exclusive night spot . . . was the place of the Winter Carnival and the versatile Robert Moss and his orchestra provided the music for dancing.

Besides the Winter Carnival, the Prom, and a gift to the school, the senior class also sponsored such minor activities as the handball and volleyball tournaments, the TCIL championship parade, and others. These successful events helped to establish a healthy spirit and teamwork throughout the school.

Although it has not taken place as yet, in keeping with past tradition, the senior class again expects to win the Mission Drive and to spark the entire school to a first-place finish in the entire Jesuit Province.

The success of this year's senior class can be attributed to these three factors: 1) leadership, 2) work, and 3) teamwork. The senior class officers supplied the leadership, and every member of the senior class always backed every project with coordinated hard work.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF CLASS

OF '55

By The Senior Class

We, the Senior Class of Jesuit High School, on the first day of May, in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-five, and in the thirteenth year of Jesuit's existence, being physically sound, and as fully possessed of our senses as can be expected under the circumstances, do hereby ordain and appoint this to be our last will and testament:

First, to Jesuit High School we leave our undying love and loyalty.

Second, to the faculty we leave our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for making these four years the finest and most memorable of our lives.

Third, to individuals we leave the following:

BOB FINEGAN, CARDY VANCE, and PAUL SMITH leave "Chief" to anyone who will keep him in line.

RONNIE CARR leaves his hillbilly song books to Cecil Parkerson.

ROGER HART leaves his private ash tray in the Senior Lounge to posterity.

JOHN DONOVAN leaves his golf clubs and station wagon to Ron Fulton.

DUNCAN KELLY leaves the trombone section of the band to Forrest Ingram.

BOB BUCHHEIT leaves Fr. Boggs with a few coaching hints.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

by Jim Obst

With September came not only the start of a new school year, but also a new (at least to us) and deserved title. At last, after two years of unceasing and praiseworthy work, we were "upperclassmen." And men of the upper class we proved ourselves to be. Since the very first day of school, we have shown a genuine spirit that has been hard to beat.

One phase of this spirit which especially stands out in our lives is the holiness of all the juniors. This religious spirit is manifested by our excellent attendance at Mass, especially on Thursday, the day set aside for us. Another example of this spirit can be shown in our retreat. For, on the days of December 3, 4, and 5, we set aside everything except thinking about the spiritual status of our soul and about our duties toward our Creator.

Another outstanding example type of spirit shown by us this year is our school spirit. At the end of the magazine drive, the various ticket drives, and the Mission Drive, it was noted by all that the juniors were always right up on top. Of course, we can not take credit for this glory ourselves. Most of this success could not have been attained had it not been for the never-ending work of our devoted teachers.

Scholastically and extracurricular-wise also, you will find the juniors leading the way. The junior classes have consistently been the most represented classes on the Honor Roll. Moreover, the names of junior students dominate the membership rolls of the various extracurricular organizations at Jesuit.

It is quite evident that this year's junior class is an exceptional one . . . one that we can rightly be proud of. But next year, you may expect even greater things from this truly great group of men.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

by Tracy Johnson

Notable in their class activities and organizations, outstanding in extracurriculars, diligent and prosperous in their curriculum, and obviously, as manifested in these and many other qualities, highly school-spirited, this year's sophomore class is indeed as beneficial to the school and as profoundly esteemed by all who have associated with the school as any class that has ever attended Jesuit High.

Important in the sophomore classes' activities have been their joint dances, managed by committees comprised of representatives from the various sophomore classes: the individual class outings, staged solely by and for each class; and the sophomore class paper, published by the class of 2A.

As has been said, the sophomores have been among the leaders in the field of extracurriculars, which statement is proved by their participation in the Sodality, of which some of the most ardent members are sophomores; the Philothespic, in which sophomores have had key roles in both "Command Decision" and "The Taming of the Shrew"; and in the Debate Society, in which many sophomores are up-and-coming debaters. Prominent also are sophomores in the Berchmans' Club, the Band, the Glee Club, and the Radio Club. In the field of sports, numerous sophomores have been star players in football, basketball, and baseball, both on the varsity and the "B" team.

Most important of all, the classes have, under the efficient and able auspices of their technical and non-technical teachers, maintained their superior scholastic standings. Each marking period, sophomores have comprised a large percentage of the honor roll.

In all this, the sophomores display their swelling school spirit and their willingness to do work for the many excellent causes presented by Jesuit High School. They also indicate the promise of continuing and increasing their fine reputation in their two remaining years at Jesuit.

Befuddled freshman on orientation day.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

The freshman classes, piloted by excellent technical teachers, have this year played an important part in the life of the school, despite some good-natured kidding and the beanies which were worn for the first time this year.

Among the innumerable achievements of the first year men this year, 1A's paper, the "Li'l Bark," certainly deserves mention. It has kept right up with all the news of interest to freshmen.

Class nights have provided entertainment and full stomachs for the various classes. Besides these, other popular activities are the freshman dances. One of the best dances was held on December 22, spearheaded by Mr. Wilson, S.J., and certain members of all the classes.

In the Jesuit Debaters the freshmen have also sparkled. In the first interscholastic debate in which freshmen took part, the Jesuit freshman team won over the freshmen from Ursuline. The hard-working freshmen have also invaded the Phil. Three freshmen were in the Shakespearean drama. In the annual Junior Elocution Contest, six of the ten contestants were freshmen.

Another triumph for freshmen was in the magazine drive. 1B came out on top as best salesmen for the entire school. Also worthy of mention is 1C's musical seminar, which consists of the whole class. Often they go to the auditorium to play classical records with simple explanations accompanying the playing.

All in all, this has been a very active year for the freshman class.

THE BERCHMANS' CLUB

Mickey Hagar and Bob Barker serve Mass in the Students' Chapel.

The St. John Berchmans' Club, better known as the Altar Boys' Society, is one of the most difficult organizations to join at Jesuit. Perhaps no other activity at Jesuit demands as much from its members the whole year round as the Berchmans' Club. Each one of the fifty or more members has a specific day and hour assigned to him when he can share more intimately in the rich fruits of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass by assisting the priest at the altar. The servers get up faithfully in the early hours of the morning, whether there be rain, sleet, or snow. For one miss may well mean the loss of membership in this select group. The generous and unselfish spirit manifested by these members have reaped many graces for them and brought them closer to God.

Under its new moderator, Reverend Michael P. Kammer, S. J., the new principal of Jesuit, the National Honor Society took on a new job this year. In former years the NHS was about the least heard about among the school's organizations, although membership in it has always been most coveted. But this year the society took a firm hand in the government of the school. It acted as the official advisory body to Fr. Kammer. In a small way this is the beginning of student government at Jesuit, which Fr. Kammer is trying to install at Jesuit.

Besides its new job, the NHS also handled all of the dances that were held at Jesuit. The society also sponsored the first dance of the year, the Get Acquainted Dance. Furthermore, the society paid a portion of the money for the Senior Retreat this year.

The qualities for membership in this society are high. Every member must live up to these four qualities: Leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

SODALITY

"Ad Jesum Per Mariam." This motto of the Sodality has long been the standard by which Jesuit's Sodalists have tried to live. The Sodality is not only for the spiritual advancement of the Sodalists themselves but also has a widespread influence on the entire school. It is understood by many that the Sodality is the backbone of the school. The Sodality has impressed the entire student body with its many spiritual projects which were carried out throughout the year.

Sodalists bring cheer to Christ's poor at annual Christmas party.

The Central Council of the Sodality must be given a lot of credit for the Sodality's splendid achievements. This Council had Bob Wilson as its Prefect, Jimmy Davis as Vice Prefect, Milam Joseph as Secretary, and Jerry Fagin as Treasurer. Others on the Council were Buzz Crutcher, Raymond Patak, Jim Obst, and Forrest Ingram. This group with Father R. A. Tynan as their moderator met every Tuesday during study period to plan the meeting of the following week.

Before one can become a member of the Sodality he must undergo a rigid candidate course which lasts at least a full year and often longer. The Candidates' Sodality have Mr. Thomas, S. J., the assistant moderator of the Sodality as their instructor. During the probation period the candidates must live up to Rule 34 which emphasizes Morning Prayer, daily Mass and Communion, Mental Prayer, the daily Rosary, examination of conscience, and other pious acts which help to mould them into true Sodalists, fashioned after the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Sodalists visit slum district in Dallas in order to aid the poor.

Fifth row: Gordon Glasco, Jerry Fagin, Jon Jacoby, Jim Obst, Bill Moser, Mike Hall, Arthur Fitzgerald, Jack Schaefer, Anthony Hopp.

Brigadier General Dennis (Buzz Crutcher) explains the necessity of daylight precision bombing to inspecting General Garnett (Neal Lamping) and his base commander, General Kané (Tom Fuechtmann).

"Servite Deo in Laetitia": Serve God in Joy. This is the motto of the Philothespic Society, one of the largest organizations at Jesuit. Under its two moderators, Mr. Marion Bahlinger, S. J., and Mr. Joseph Tetlow, S. J., the Phil carried out this motto to the fullest.

Never before in its history has the Phil presented so much talent and so much variety to its audiences. The first public showing was a full length modern play Command Decision on November 18 and 19. The plot is concerned with the decision of an Air Force general during World War II. I'm sure that no one will forget the performance of Buzz Crutcher in the leading role. Holding other important roles in the play were Jerry Fagin, Neal Lamping, and Tom Fuechtmann.

Next on the bill was a one-act play, The Trial of Edmund Campion, which was presented at the Mother-Son Christmas Party.

This play was a fine example of the combination of hard work, good talent, and technique of production.

Then, on the nights of February 9, 11, and 12, the Phil presented its major production of the year, The Taming of the Shrew. This Shakespearian drama was the crowning achievement to a glorious year. All members of the cast turned in superb performances, with Jim Davis as the Shrew and Gordon Glasco as her tamer, Petruchio, particularly professional in their respective roles. Other outstanding performers were Bob Alexander as Bianca, Tom Fuechtmann as Lucentio, Claude Barbazon as Curio, Jon Jacoby as Tranio, Charlie Lundquist as Grumio, and Mike O'Brien as Curtis.

Curtis, servant of Petruchio (Mike O'Brien) is totally absorbed in the tales of Grumio, another servant of Petruchio (Charlie Lundquist).

Claude Barbazon in the role of Curio, a suitor of Bianca, in the Taming of the Shrew.

Besides these events the Philothespic sponsored other events such as the Junior Elocution Contest on December 15 and the Senior Elocution Contest on April 28. As though these activities were not sufficient to keep the Phil fully occupied, the Society found time to amuse and educate itself with frequent, well-planned entertainments at its weekly meetings. Guiding the organization in these affairs were its capable officers: Jim Davis, President; Jack Houlihan, Vice President; Milam Joseph, Secretary; and Joe Wasaff, Treasurer.

Third row: Dan O'Shea, Bill Hodges, Jerry Fagin, Joe Wasaff, Mr. J. R. Drez, S. J., Reverend J. L. Weber, S. J., Bob Alexander, Jerry Kagay, Arthur Fitzgerald.

"Trade, not aid." These words resound through the minds of all the Jesuit Debaters. For this year the main topic of debate was: "What the foreign trade policy of the United States should be.

Under the direction of the society's founder, Father Weber, and the new assistant moderator, Mr. Drez, this organization has had a very successful year. The members have spent many long and tedious hours in working toward their goal, to speak the truth eloquently for Christ. Using the system of school against school debating, the Inter-Catholic Debate League sponsored more debates than ever before. This year the J. D.'s acquired an outstanding record.

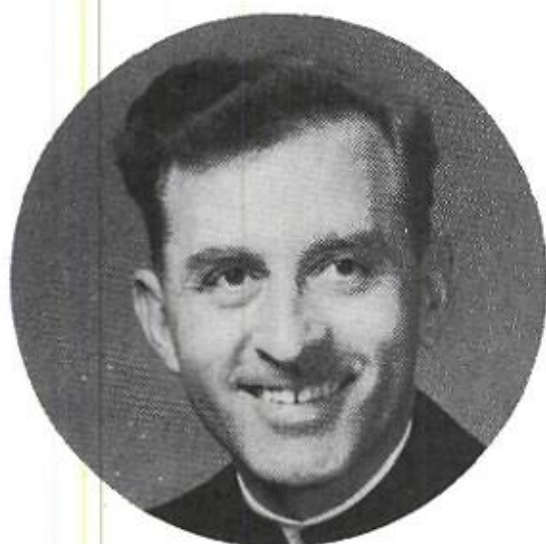

The Inter-Catholic Debate League is made up of five schools, L. G. C., St. Edward's, St. Peter's, Ursuline, and Jesuit. Each of these schools sends two delegates to the meetings.

The Jesuit Debate team of Jerry Fagin and Tom Fuechtmann defeat the LGC debate duet of Connie Duncan and Kay Chandler. Ann Little (center) was chairman.

Those "stout-hearted" men of the Glee Club have reached the top rung of the ladder of success. With their performances at the operetta and various other occasions, the Glee Club members have shown the student body that for anyone who enjoys singing there can be no finer extracurricular than the Glee Club.

The Club stepped dramatically and musically to the forefront in late October with the first major stage presentation of the year, the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance." For three days the operetta entertained audiences which were quick to appreciate the Glee Club's fine accomplishment. Because of its immediate success, the Glee Club made plans for purchasing a new piano for the school. To mention but a few of the cast, the leading roles were filled by: Jimmy Begg, Forrest Ingram, Skippy McCaffrey, Dan O'Shea, and Mike Richardson.

Directed by its moderator, Mr. Louis Herlong, S. J., the Glee Club has shown talent on many occasions throughout the year. Other performances by the Glee Club this year were at the Christmas Sodality Party in West Dallas and at the Christmas Mother-Son Party at Jesuit. With its fine officers: Neal Lamping, President; Bill Adams, Vice President; Forrest Ingram, Secretary; and Glynn Marlow, Treasurer, the Glee Club has shown the school only a part of what it can expect in the future.

Working arduously during the summer and in the morning and afternoons of September, the Band arranged half-time drills and marches to use during the football season. All of those who saw the Band at the football games last fall know that the hard work and earnest desire resulted in well-planned and most enjoyable programs.

After the marching was over, the Band started work on its traditional Christmas assembly entertainment. They presented a medley of Christmas favorites to the delight of the entire student body.

While they prepared the Christmas program, the Band was rehearsing for its first "Pop" Concert which was to be presented on January 8 at Spence Auditorium. The musical menu for that night consisted of everything from semi-classical fare to Dixieland jazz, interspersed with a few specialty numbers.

After that the band was looking forward to even greater things from its Spring Concert at McFarlin Auditorium on May 7. That night the air was filled with the beautiful strains of Hyden, Strauss, and Verdi; it was a glorious crown to the year's activities.

THE RADIO CLUB

Allowing for its having been in existence only one year, and having only a small membership, the Jesuit Radio Club has accomplished wonders. From the tiny three-member club started by Mr. Underhill, S. J., the JRC has expanded to eight members with regular meetings and many varied activities.

In the way of equipment the club has added to their 60 watt transmitter and other instruments, a donated 300 watt transmitter and a repaired 12 watt transmitter.

Also, besides the stations which the members themselves have assembled, the JRC has constructed a Tesla coil, a very high-power, high-frequency transmitter used for demonstration purposes.

From the many students pictured above only eight are official members, the rest being candidates. Membership consists in holding an amateur radio license. Members have shown their interest by their industrious work. During the year several field trips were taken to radio and TV stations. Moreover, the JRC entertained the student body at the third quarter assembly.

The JRC feels and hopes that the pattern it has set this year will be a prototype of many more successful years.

Due to the increase of enrollment of the school in the last few years, it was necessary to increase the library facilities. With the increased facilities it became of great importance to establish the library aides. These students keep the library in order, which includes replacing the books to the shelves and repairing damaged books.

At all times, before school, during school, during lunch and study periods, and after school, there is always a library aide hard at work in the library. With the enrollment reaching a new high, it would be impossible to keep up the efficiency of the library without the aid of these students. This efficiency is due to the untiring work of Fr. Braun, S. J., the librarian, and his assistant, Mrs. Jean Reilly. The value of the library aides is adequately attested to by both Fr. Braun and Mrs. Reilly.

Louis Wise inspects bulletin board in library. The library aides keep this board posted with the covers of new books.

The Camera Club is Jesuit's newest organization. The club was founded by Anthony Daboub, the Roundup's staff photographer. The purpose of the new club is to make available a multitude of pictures so that the Roundup might portray the varied activities at Jesuit more graphically.

Also through the Camera Club, the members are instructed in the fundamentals of photography. Their part of the activities consisted in films, lectures, and the study of photographic equipment.

Throughout the year the club sponsored many contests for its members. Also the club pushed and sponsored the annual Picture Contest for the whole school.

THE SAFETY CLUB

The Safety Club's prime purpose for existence is to promote a sense of safety into the lives of the students at Jesuit. They try to get through to the student body that a safe driver is one that will live the longest. This fine organization was organized last year with the help of the Dads Club and with the direction of Mr. Tysor, the driving instructor at Crozier Technical High School.

The Safety Club included as part of its program the driving school that was recently held at Jesuit. They encouraged as many students as possible to join the driving school. The school was a huge success and the Safety Club should take a large part of the credit for its successfulness.

Recently the club received a trophy for safe driving that was presented to Jesuit High School. The trophy was given to Jesuit because it had the best safe-driving record among the private and parochial schools of Dallas County.

This picture of Ranger teamwork explains why the Jesuit team wound up as champs of the TCIL league. This picture is typical of Ranger play throughout the night of the championship game, in which the Rangers emerged victors of the Kirwin Buccaneers, 26-12.

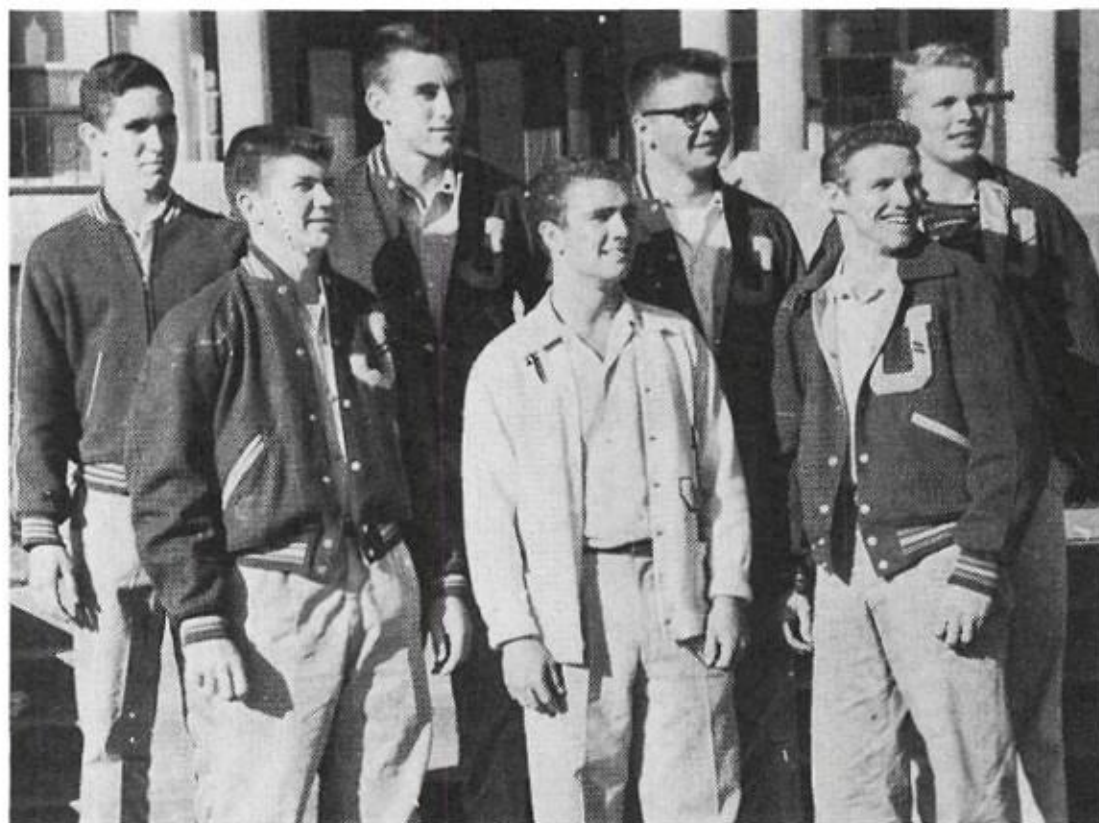

"This is the greatest team that I've ever coached." These words were very often heard from Coach Lancaster Smith during the 1954 football season, concerning the '54 Ranger team. And the greatest it very well may have been, for the 1954 Jesuit football team brought the school its first TCIL championship. En route to the championship, the team compiled a record of 9 wins against only one loss to Hillcrest of the city league.

This team not only brought much glory to the school, but also several individuals received recognition throughout the city, state, and one throughout the nation. Jesuit placed seven men on the twenty-two member All-State TCIL team, with six other Rangers receiving honorable mention. Two boys were named to the Greater Dallas All-Star team. They were Ray Ruwaldt, who was named to a first string halfback spot, and Bob Wilson, who landed a second team end position. Moreover, Ray made second team All-America, All-Catholic, while Bob received honorable mention on the same mythical eleven.

Although at season's end, the team found that it was loaded with All-State material; yet, at the beginning of the season, the outlook was not too bright. According to pre-season predictions, the Jesuit team was too green to have a great season. But because of the terrific coaching job turned in by Coach Lancaster Smith and his able assistant, Coach Bill Durick, the team came around very quickly under fire. At the end of the season, the team had surprised everyone, and many persons were in perfect agreement with Coach Smith: "They're the greatest."

The Jesuit Rangers did what nobody expected. They captured the 1955 TCIL State Basketball Tournament in San Antonio. The Rangers won the title by defeating Corpus Christi by the score of 57-54 in the final game. It was a great team victory for Jesuit, who definitely was the "dark horse" of the tourney in pre-tournament ratings.

John Finn, Ranger Tri-Captain, receives congratulations from Father W. J. Buehler, President of St. Mary's University, after the trophies had been given to the winners.

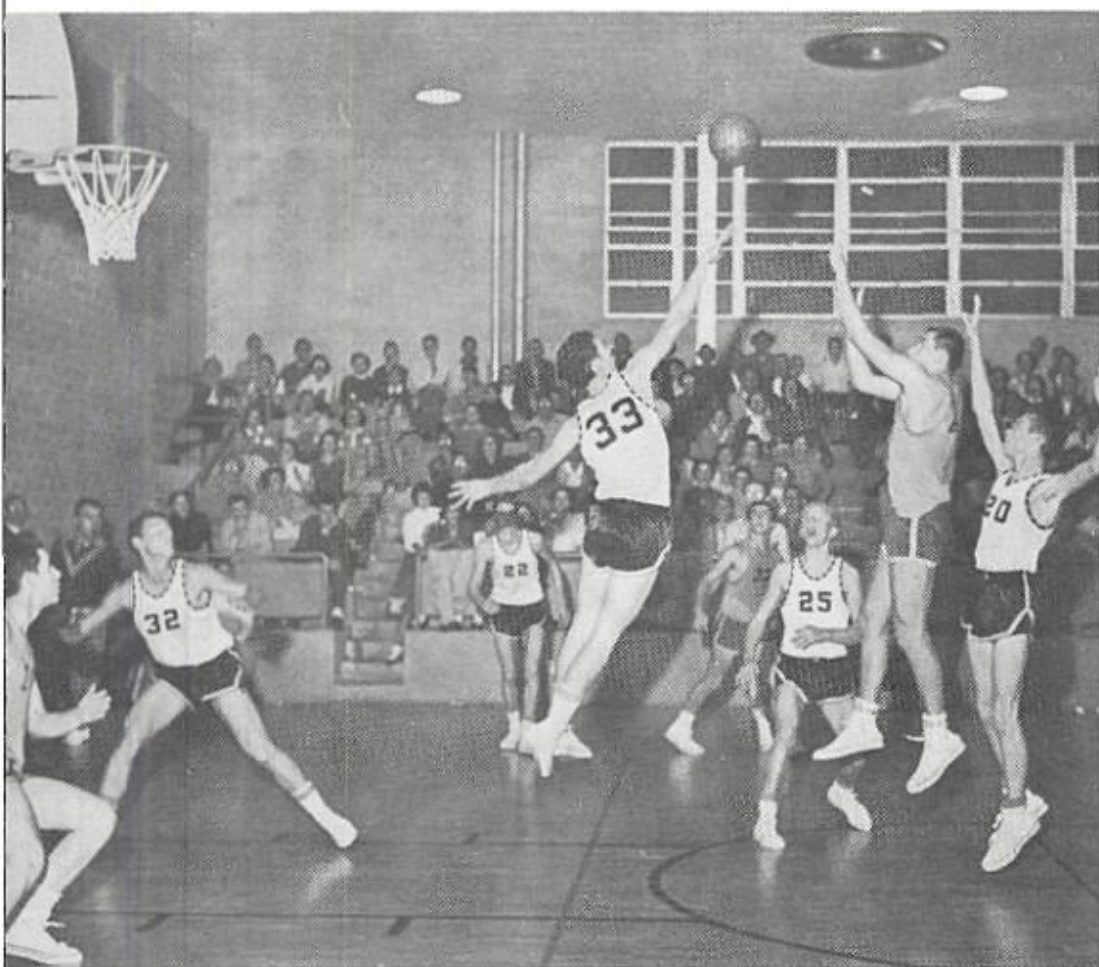

Coach Bill Durick—After only two years, he guides team to state title.

Paul Sodeman (66), Ranger pivot, shoots for two as Marty O'Donnell (20) stands beneath basket.

Guard Skippy McCaffrey (22) lets fly a two-pointer, as Sodeman (66) and Ruwaldt (26) rush in to check for rebound.

Bob Wilson, Jesuit's leading scorer and All-Stater, pushes up two points from the foul circle.

The Rangers had come a long way since the beginning of the season. The first five games of the season found the Rangers on the short end of the score. But the Rangers finally began hitting their stride after the New Year started. They immediately initiated an eight game winning streak. High points of this win streak were hard-earned victories over Woodrow Wilson, the second place team in the city league, and the highly-regarded Lancaster Tigers. The Rangers wound up the season with a record of 18 wins against 9 losses.

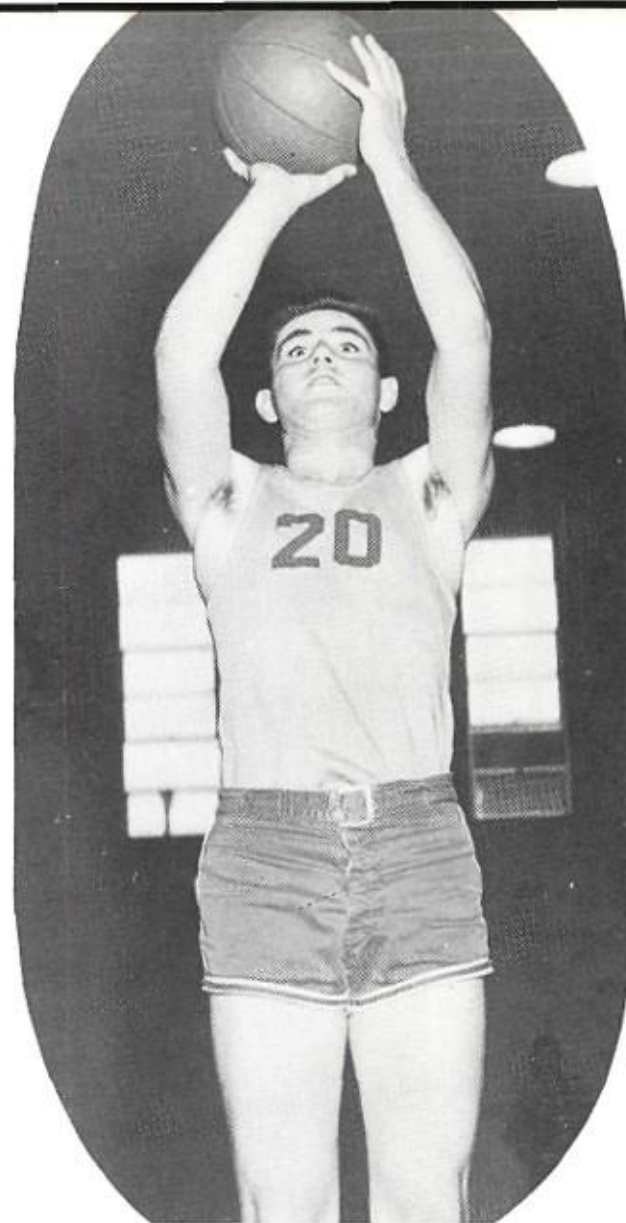

For Coach Bill Durick it was a glorious achievement. For, in his second year as head basketball coach at Jesuit, he had guided his team to the TCIL title. For Jesuit it was the first state basketball title, and the second straight TCIL crown that Ranger teams had brought to the school this year.

Coach BILL DURICK

Last year our varsity nine went to the semi-finals of the TCIL tournament before losing a close one to St. Thomas, 2-1. This year's team is determined to go all the way and make a clean sweep of TCIL titles for the year. The returning lettermen shown on these pages are the key to Ranger title hopes. Joe Biasatti, Ray Ruwaldt, Rufe Brewton, and Gary Pasqua are expected to supply the needed hitting power.

The real question mark of the team is the mound staff. The Rangers lost their two leading hurlers and are pinning their hopes this year on three untried hurlers up from the "B" Team. Alvin Lostetter will probably be the catcher, with Rufe Brewton, Ronnie Carr, Ray Ruwaldt, and Gary Pasqua rounding out the infield. In the outfield will probably be Joe Biasatti, Mike Sreenan, and Paul Smith.

Upon the shoulders of these men rests the responsibility of winning Jesuit's first TCIL baseball title and triple crown.

Expected to head the Ranger mound staff are Jim Lover, Tommy Ruwaldt, and Hector Ruiz.

MR. JAMES CALLEN

This year the tennis team is looking forward to bettering last year's record of two won, two lost, and three tied. One of the tie matches was with the city champ, Sunset.

In striving for this goal, the tennis team has spent many long hours at hard practice under their new tennis coach, Jim Callen, a graduate of Jesuit. Before graduation Jim was the number one player on St. Mary's University tennis team.

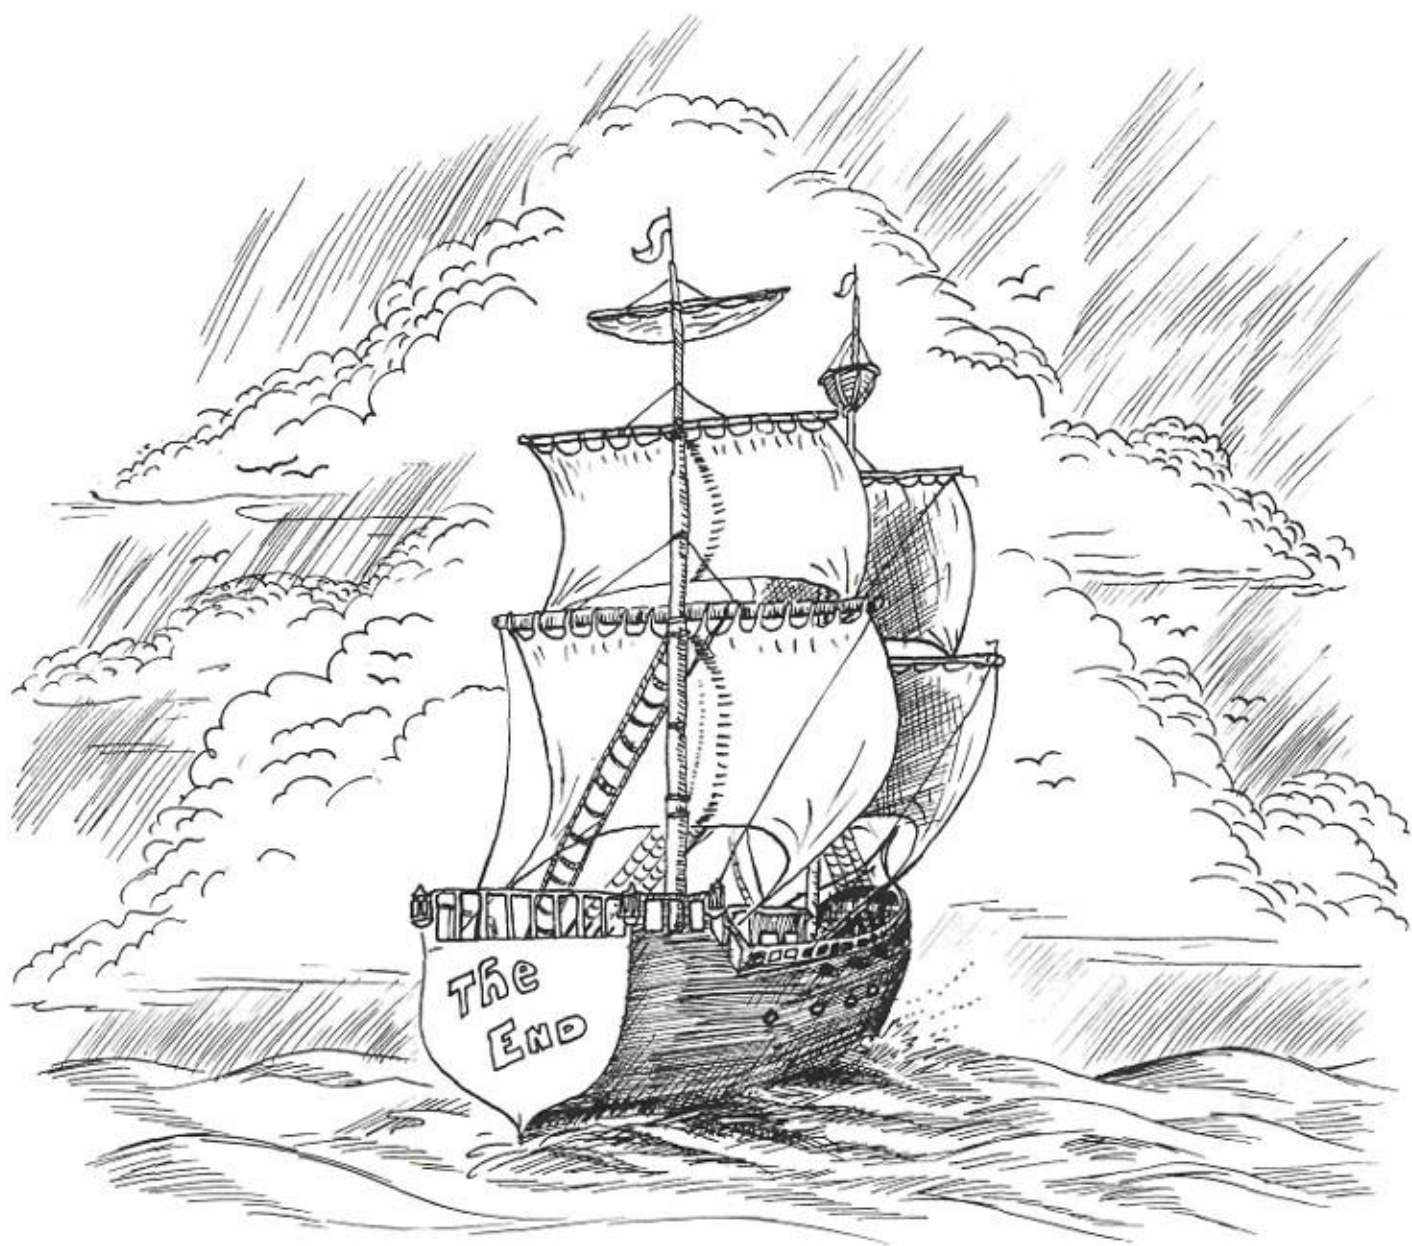

After he has held intra-team matches to determine the rank of the individual players, Coach Callen hopes to line up a rugged schedule with the city schools. He also has hopes of expanding the matches to more than seven.

Serving as moderator of this year's team is Mr. T. L. Herlong, S. J., the coach of last year's team.
